COMMUNITY OF ACCEPTANCE

At The Gathering Place we believe that each woman who comes through our doors is a valuable human being with a unique set of circumstances. We also believe that when a woman feels accepted and cared for she can collect her inner resources and make wise choices that will support her in rebuilding her life.

Together, the women, staff, and volunteers of the Gathering Place cultivate a climate that is built on appreciating individual differences. In shaping our own community, we use each other's unique gifts and lessons to form bonds of respect and friendship.

Women are encouraged to develop individual strengths in an atmosphere of acceptance and support, with services designed to promote self-advocacy. As Denver's only daytime drop-in center for women and children who are experiencing homelessness or poverty, The Gathering Place offers women and families essential tools for rebuilding their lives.

SHELTER FROM HARM

The Gathering Place is a safe haven for women and children during times of homelessness or poverty.

A woman cannot concentrate on a search for housing if she is hungry. A woman will not be successful in gaining employment if she has no place to bathe or keep her clothing clean. The Gathering Place is a refuge that lets women and mothers address their families' immediate needs so they can focus on the future.

OPPORTUNITY FOR HOPE

The welcoming and open environment of The Gathering Place promotes rest, rejuvenation, and consideration of future choices. Our programs are designed to foster the talent and potential within each woman.

Women seeking support from The Gathering Place are encouraged to build a network of service providers that best fits their unique life circumstances. To help them accomplish this The Gathering Place has collaborative relationships with over 20 other organizations and agencies in the community.

Most of this fiscal year was spent at our temporary location, Montview Boulevard Presbyterian Church. During our transition year we found that involvement in our self-sufficiency programs remained steady and that the numbers of women and children who just stopped in briefly for basic needs was much lower. We heard from women who had previously used our services that the transportation costs and distance created difficulties. For us, this re-affirmed our decision that the best location choice for The Gathering Place is 1535 High Street and as the year closed, we were able to move into our brand new facility. Some highlights of our accomplishments and activities include:

EMERGENCY SERVICES

Women and children made a total of 23,112 visits to The Gathering Place in 2007 by 7,452 individual women and children, averaging 1,926 visits each month.

A total of 276 nights-off-the-streets were provided through motel vouchers during the year.

Lack of affordable and reliable transportation is a barrier for people who are seeking employment, education, training or housing. The Gathering Place distributed an average of 2,101 bus fares to women and their children each month.

FOOD PROGRAM

The buffet breakfast, full-service hot lunches and hearty afternoon snacks helped women and their children to save precious cash resources they could apply towards rent or utility expenses. Eating meals at The Gathering Place also provides a community of support where people visit, share experiences and encourage one another. The Gathering Place served 38,820 meals in 2007, for an average of 3,235 meals each month. In addition, through Betsy's Cupboard, our emergency food and supply bank we supported an average of 204 families with food and toiletry baskets as well as baby supplies each month.

FAMILY AREA

In the Family Area, staff and volunteers provide a safe and nurturing environment for children visiting The Gathering Place with their mothers. Each month an average of 354 children visited the Family Area at The Gathering Place to do the real work of childhood – play. We continue to give the families access to over-the-counter medications which cannot be purchased with food stamps.

PHYSICAL & MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM

People experiencing homelessness often have chronic physical or mental health challenges that can be barriers to employment or stable housing. The Mental Health Center of Denver and Mental Health America of Colorado provided 672 counseling sessions on-site at The Gathering Place in 2007. The Stout Street Clinic mobile van provided 312 medical exams at no cost to the women.

PERSONAL GROWTH & LEARNING PROGRAMS

The Gathering Place actively collaborates with private and public organizations across the community to provide an array of programs that women can select from to begin rebuilding their lives. Many of the successes experienced below are a result of these collaborations.

Attorneys provided by Qwest Communications offered 120 free legal inquiry sessions to the women we serve, often eliminating outstanding judgments that barred women from employment or housing.

In 2007, we initiated new collaborative relationships for arts and crafts activities, and we offered African Dance classes through a collaboration with Park Hill Thriving Communities.

Bridget's Boutique provided high-quality clothing to 1,056 women through the Hand Me Up donation program of Heritage Cleaners and donations of new clothing through businesses such as J.Jill. Additionally, SOL Lingerie fitted women for new and gently-used bras.

Through the year, 168 free haircuts were given to women and children.

HOUSING STABILIZATION

With funding from Denver's Road Home, The Gathering Place initiated a Housing Stabilization Program in 2006. This program assisted 23 homeless women find housing within the first year by providing case management, rental assistance, utility assistance, furniture, help obtaining legal identification, transportation assistance, and access to homeless court to clear up outstanding legal issues. The Gathering Place Association provided "Welcome Home" gift baskets to all the women in the program, which contained necessary housekeeping supplies.

ARTS PROGRAMS

At The Gathering Place, we believe in the power of creativity to heal and rest the mind. The Card Project provides a safe and supportive environment for women to express themselves artistically and an opportunity to experience growth and obtain financial reward. Card Project artists collectively earned $30,720 through the sale of individually hand-made greeting cards in 2007.

A new knitting group was formed and an average of 16 women per month participated in the group.

Art classes were offered through The Other Side Arts and were attended by an average of 14 women per month.

CELEBRATIONS

The Gathering Place works hard to make the holidays special for the women and children we serve.

In December, over three hundred individuals enjoyed a spectacular Holiday Fair coordinated by The Gathering Place Association. The annual Holiday Fair includes a holiday meal, a visit from Santa, games, crafts and entertainment. Each family member received a $25 gift certificate and bus tokens to shop for their loved ones at the holidays. Every person also received warm hats, scarves and gloves provided by the Smartwool Corporation. In addition to the Holiday Fair, The Gathering Place held Santa's Toy Shop, where new toys and gift cards were distributed to families.

In February, the Denver Links women's club hosted a Black History Dinner for The Gathering Place community, which included dancing and singing entertainment, as well as a delicious home cooked meal. Forty-five women attended the event and viewed a powerful documentary on the life of Rosa Parks.

In September, The Gathering Place held a street fair in celebration of the new facility. Over 500 women and children, staff, donors, volunteers and friends attended the event. Denver Mayor Hickenlooper and others were on hand for the Ribbon-Cutting ceremony.

Dear Friends,

At last we are home. The past fiscal year brought numerous challenges as we completed the construction of our new facility and then in late August, we said good-bye to our friends at Montview Boulevard Presbyterian Church, and we moved back home to High Street. And what a lovely home it is.

Most days I approach the new building from the north and most days I am fortunate enough to stop at the red light on Colfax and High Street where I have a view of a beautiful new building complete with a proud sign that includes our logo, our name and “The Kal and Joyce Zeff Center.” And with that, I start my day with pride. Together and with your support, we have created something magnificent and something so beyond a building. We have created the space to fulfill our dreams.

Each day somewhere between 200 and 300 women and children come to visit us and to receive services. In our new building, they spend considerably less time waiting in lines to sign in and sign up and considerably more time rebuilding their lives. The design promotes safety and a sense of community. There are places for privacy, places for relationships; small groups and large groups can be accommodated. There is more of everything – more showers, more washers and dryers, more computers, more classroom time, more room for art, for exercise and for personal services like haircuts and clothing. There is more time for staff and volunteers to spend with the women and more time for the women to help themselves and help each other. These were all things that we dreamed about and now they have become reality. Completing the building has become a very important beginning for our organization.

No longer limited by space, we are at last free to create new programs and services that meet the needs of the women and children. We are committed to evaluating our performance along the way and making changes when needed to ensure that we are relevant and producing results. With our knowledge and expertise, we are an important voice for women and children experiencing homelessness and we envision ourselves as leaders and advocates in this area. Our vision is to help the women and children we serve rebuild their lives and to contribute to improving life for all of us in the Denver metropolitan area.

The Gathering Place brings people together from all walks of life to contribute to solutions around poverty and homelessness. We understand that it takes all of us working together to address the enormity of issues the women and children we serve face each day. We are grateful to each of you for joining our efforts and this year especially, we welcome all of you to our home.

Sincerely,

Leslie Foster, President/CEO

board chair's letter

Dear Friends,

Last month, I arrived at The Gathering Place one Thursday afternoon to meet with clients to discuss their legal issues, much as I have been doing for the past 20 years. This time though, something was very different: we met in an office, with a door and a computer. This may not sound like much, but to the women (and to me) this was huge. Due to the space constraints of the old building, we had gotten used to meeting wherever we could find some room – in a corner of the dining room, in the laundry room, in the children's area, and once – in the bathroom. At least the bathroom was private. Discussing their legal issues in a public setting did not seem to faze most of the women. Loss of privacy and dignity goes hand-in-hand with poverty and homelessness.

I was unprepared for the magnitude of the difference a small thing like an office and computer would make. I found that I spent at least twice as much time with each client as I had previously. The women were much more open and focused in a private setting. There were no interruptions or distractions. No one was coming in to use the washer and overhearing our conversation. In the past, I would often have to tell clients I would get back to them after I'd gone back to my office to research their issue or print a form. Of course, since many of the women at The Gathering Place do not have regular access to a phone or voice mail, follow-up was extremely difficult and often never happened. With a computer on the desk, I was able to immediately direct the women to resources, help them prepare legal documents, and get them answers to their questions on the spot.

My experience is only one small example of the tremendous positive change The Kal and Joyce Zeff Center has brought to the women and children of The Gathering Place. The Gathering Place has always been a place that provides community and acceptance for the women and children it serves. Now, however, it also provides dignity, peace and beauty. In a way that words never could, the new building shows the women and children of The Gathering Place that you care and believe they are valuable and valued members of the community.

Your generosity has made a remarkable difference and will continue to help improve the lives of those we serve.

at last we are home...

Betsy Fulnecky gave one year of service through Colorado Vincentian Volunteers to help in our Family Area.

Over 38,000 meals were provided to women and children during the year.

An average of 354 children came to The Gathering Place each month to enjoy our sunny playroom.

Computers donated through the Jared Polis Foundation are available for women to create resumes, learn skills, search for housing & jobs, or just keep in touch with friends and family.

Non-perishable food, toiletries and baby items are available monthly through Betsy's Cupboard. The Cupboard is stocked through community donation drives.

Clothing donated through the Hand Me Up partnership with Heritage Cleaners is available through Bridget's Boutique. In the new building, clothing is available on a regular basis instead of just special dates.

Volunteer groups and individuals help to serve lunch daily so that women and children can spend their lunch time enjoying each other's company as well as the meal. School groups often schedule tours of The Gathering Place as part of their community education programs.

The role of volunteers is fundamental to the mission of The Gathering Place. They do simple but immeasurably important things: They talk to the women. They listen to them. They treat them with respect.

The Gathering Place fosters an environment in which community volunteers and staff collaborate to support women and children experiencing homelessness and poverty. In 2007, volunteers worked in every aspect of our programs and operations, contributing 13,936 hours of service.

The time given by volunteers in 2007 is equal to a resource value of approximately $276,751 and the equivalent of about seven full-time staff members. Without dedicated community volunteers, we simply would not be able to provide the supportive and caring services women and children need to rebuild their lives.

We are very grateful to all those in the community who choose to serve as a source of hope and provide a context for the restoration of the human spirit when hope has been lost. The Gathering Place is very pleased to list the following individuals who have committed their time and expertise to assisting the women and children we serve with rebuilding their lives.

On the streets families spend their energy on basic survival and safety. At The Gathering Place, children get to partake in the most important part of childhood—play.

donors: capital campaign

Thank you to the donors who made our new facility, the Kal and Joyce Zeff Center, possible. To follow represent donations made between December 2004 and May 2008:

Joyce and Kal Zeff, longtime supporters of The Gathering Place, gave their lead gift in December 2004 before we were even ready to launch our capital campaign. They understood and saw the vision. It is a honor to have their name on our new building.
